A Slow Coach.

We received an important telegraph despatch last evening, from New York, which the senior editor of this paper sent from that city on the 18th instant—only nine days in coming through—almost equal in speed to the "lead team express." In that length of time a man could go from New York to Liverpool in one of Collins' floating palaces.—People will cease to patronize the telegraph when they learn that they can send their despatches as quick, if not quicker, by mail.

Mr. LADD says this is but a specimen of a large amount of business that is delayed in this manner, more or less of which has been sent from New York and other places east, via the New York, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati line, and the House line from New York to Buffalo, and its connections this side.—With this dispatch came one from Poughkeepsie and one from Dunkirk of the 20th, via those lines; at the same time, by the Morse line, was received New York business of the 27th inst.

He is satisfied that four fifths to nine tenths of the unreasonable delays in despatches from the East, occur on these lines, and he has long wished to advise his customers of this fact, so that they could instruct their correspondents accordingly, but a fear that it might be thought invidious, has deterred him from so doing. Delays must necessarily occur sometimes in telegraphing; but this Company intend that the mails shall not get the start of them; and, in case of interruption, operators are instructed to make use of the mails or express, if no other more speedy means presents itself to carry their business past the difficulty.

Mr. L. was informed yesterday by a customer, a merchant of this city, whose despatch from himself in New York to his store here was delayed some three days,—that he was directed to the Pittsburgh line, because the Morse line, via Buffalo, had so much business that it must necessarily take longer for it to get through.

It is stated that this line from this city make their connections, via Buffalo and New York, with their Philadelphia, Washington and other Southern business, at the same time taking pay only for the nearer and cheaper route via Pittsburgh, because they can get their answers more promptly and more correct.

TESTIMONY OF RESPECT FOR GOV. BURNS.—By proclamation of Gov. Farwell, the several State Departments will be closed one day—the 22d of October next.

☞ P. T. Barnum lectured at Chicago on Sunday afternoon and evening last. Mr. B. has contributed $200 to the Iverson Monument Fund.

American Institute.—The American Institute holds its Annual Fair at Castle Garden, New York, on the 16th of October. Hon. Wm. H. Seward delivers the Address.

☞ J. Hunt, Esq., Chief Engineer of the Alton & Terra Hauto Railroad, has resigned.

☞ The Democrats of the Western Assembly District of Dane Co., have re-nominated Henry Barnes for the Assembly.

☞ A spirited Temperance Convention for Kenosha County was held at Bristol, on Tuesday last, and was well attended.

MAMMOTH OX.—An ox, weighing 4,000 pounds, is on exhibition at Chicago. He was raised in Iowa, and is 5 years old.

STATE FAIR.—The Annual Michigan State Fair commences at Detroit, to-day, and continues three days.

☞ By the death of Lt. Gov. Burns, the Hon. D. C. Reed, of this city, becomes acting Lieut. Governor.

Rodman M. Price is the Democratic candidate for Governor, in New Jersey, instead of P. M. Crist, as the telegraph has it.

FIRE.—A barn and a pile of lumber were destroyed by fire at Chicago, on Sunday morning last.

☞ It is stated that the New York Central Road will earn full $600,000 for the month of September.

☞ There has been one or two cases of Small Pox in Chicago recently.

REV. C. G. AMES will lecture on Temperance in Whitewater, this evening.

Taken the Field.

Rev. A. C. BARRY, of Racine, has taken the field and will devote his time in behalf of a Prohibitory Liquor Law until election. He is a man of acknowledged ability, and an able and interesting speaker. The Oshkosh Democrat speaks of him as follows:

"The Rev. A. C. Barry, of Racine, gave two lectures this week, in this city, upon the subject of the Maine Law. The audience at both lectures was large, and intelligent, although the weather was decidedly bad on the last evening. Mr. Barry is, we believe, beyond all dispute, one of the finest speakers in the State. There was nothing in his lectures to excite laughter, no appeals to the passions, no satire even, attempted. The whole matter was directed to the Reason and the Understanding. The first lecture, especially, was one continued logical argument, and yet the attention of every one was rivated upon the speaker. To us, it seemed, while listening, that there could be but one way to dodge; that was, to wrap ourself up in a perfect cloak of selfishness; to contend for the doctrine that every man is perfectly isolated from all connection of Interest, Sympathy, or Feeling with his fellow man, and adopt the old adage of 'Every man for himself, and the Devil take the rest.' This was the only way we could see of resisting his appeals to vote for the Maine Law."

☞ The Convention of National Democrats of Massachusetts, which was held at Boston, last week, and which nominated Bradford L. Wales for Governor, and Geo. Osborn for Lieut. Governor, denounced Caleb Cushing, U. S. Attorney General, as a Free Soil Whig, and gave three cheers for the "admiantine" Hunkers of New York.

This is treating President Pierce rather "snobbishly."

☞ A general meeting of Presidents and Directors of the various railroads in the U. States, will be held at Washington during the month of October, to consider the adoption of a code of laws, and the establishment of such general measures as shall guard against accidents on railroads, &c.

☞ At the State Fair, lately held at Dayton, Ohio, a newly fashioned Smoothing Iron attracted much admiration. It is hollow, with a door on one side, and a spout to answer for a chimney on the other, and is heated by placing live coals in it. A handful of coals will keep it heated half the day.

Destructive Fire in New York.—The extensive oil and candle manufactory of Johnson, Sanford & Co., corner of Gold & Marshall streets, was entirely destroyed by fire, on Wednesday night last. Loss, $130,000, on which there is an insurance of $90,000, in various New York offices.

☞ A mass meeting of the friends of Temperance will be held at Janesville on the 5th of October.

MONROE.—We attended the Free Democratic meeting at Monroe, last Saturday. A full house attended, and we had the pleasure of listening to a most eloquent and able address from Mr. Holton, our candidate for Governor. The people are moving in Green county in the right direction, and we hope to see that county redeemed in November next.—Janesville Press.

Counterfeit Twenties, on the Bank of Racine, have made their appearance. We saw one yesterday, altered from a one. It was well done, and did we not know that this Bank had not issued any bills over the denomination of Five's, we should have taken it for a genuine one. There is no trace of the Figure or Letter one. There are also 50's, altered from 3's, in circulation on this Bank.—Racine Dem.

☞ Last Saturday, a span of horses ran away from the depot, in this city, with a large boiler. In coming down the hill, the driver, in some manner, was thrown under the wheels and badly hurt. The team, we understand, belonged to Mr. Hammond, of this city.—Janesville Free Press.

☞ Since our quotations of last week, wheat has fallen ten cents per bushel in market, now commanding only 67 cents for best quality of spring.—Janesville Press.

RATHER COOL.—A gentleman residing in a village not many miles from Exeter, New Hampshire, finding that the diminunition of his wood-pile continued after his fires were out, lay awake one night in order to obtain if possible some clue to the mystery. At an hour when "all honest folks should be in bed," hearing an operator at work in the yard, he cautiously raised his chamber window, and saw his lazy brother trying to get a large log on his wheelbarrow.

"You are a pretty fellow," said the owner, "to come here and steal my wood while I sleep."

"Yes," replied the thief, "and I suppose you would stay up there and see me break my back with lifting, before you'd offer to come down and help me."

On the 17th of Sept. 1763, the first dramatic performance took place in New York, by a company of comedians from London.—The theatre stood on the site of the present post-office. On the 5th of the same month, the first play in America, "The Merchant of Venice," was performed in Williamsburg, Va.

ASHORE.—The schooner Telegraph is reported ashore with a cargo of lumber below White Lake.—Chic. Press.

Methodist Church on Slavery.

At the recent Session of the Rock River Conference of the Methodist E. Church, held in Chicago, a series of resolutions relative to the sin of Slavery were introduced, but laid on the table, for fear that the agitation of the subject would inflame the passions of the South, and create animosities in the bosom of the Church. The Chicago Press, in commenting upon this unchristian and irresolute action—this compromising with iniquity, calls it "wisely done."

Per contra, the Detroit Tribune—a paper glowing with human sympathy—publishes and endorses the following report of the Committee of the Methodist Michigan Conference, to whom was referred the subject of Slavery. It breathes the right spirit:

"The evil of Slavery still exists in our land. We are as much as ever opposed to it, and believe the time has come for us to exert our moral and christian influence for its entire extirpation. The admission of slave-holders into the church of Christ doubtless gives it countenance and support. In our opinion, there is now sufficient light upon the subject to render it the duty of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to make immediate efforts to purify herself from any species of influence to strengthen or uphold a system of oppression, which our venerable Wesley declared only four days before his death, to be 'the vilest that ever saw the sun.'

"Resolved, Therefore, by the Michigan Annual Conference assembled, That we regard all slave holding as sinful, except where the mere legal relation is retained for the special purpose of emancipation, and attended with diligent efforts to qualify the slave, not merely for a christian servant, but a freeman.

"Resolved, That we regard the admission of additional slave-holding members into the Church, to be attended with so many and so great evils, that efficient means should at once be adopted to prevent it."

Michigan Southern Railroad.—The running apparatus of this road is of the most complete kind. The locomotives are of the best description, and in point of beauty and speed are not to be excelled by those of any other road in the West. Most of the night passenger cars are furnished with seats running the whole length of the car, on each side, and so constructed that very little motion is perceptible, and rendering a good sleep an object easily obtained. These cars were manufactured at the Union Car Works in this city, but the Company will soon introduce an improvement in the seats, so that night traveling will not subject a passenger to the loss of sleep, and the tiresome feeling attending a ride in the long straight-backed seats used by other roads. The Conductors are gentlemen who attend to the wants of passengers, and aid greatly in making the road one of the leading thoroughfares in the country.—Chicago Tribune.

☞ The Boston Sunday News (not a political paper) says:

Gen. Wilson's nomination by a thousand free soil delegates seems to give universal satisfaction to the free democracy, and we have yet to see the first man who doubts that Henry Wilson will be the next Governor. Whatever may be our own political views, one thing is certain, the free soil party is a live one, and embraces the most energetic workies in the State. They'll be mighty hard to beat, and still harder to kill. Now, let us have Rufus Choate and a good strong democrat as opposing candidates, and the fight will be interesting.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 22.—The Universalist General Convention to-day adopted unanimously a resolution against the sins of Slavery, Intemperance and War.

A resolution fully indorsing the Maine Law was passed with but one dissenting voice.

A resolution in favor of establishing a Theological Seminary in the State of New-York has also been adopted.

Sermons have been preached by the Rev. Messrs. Williamson of Alabama, Brooks of Massachusetts, Maurie of New-York, Moore of New-Jersey, and Bacon of Pennsylvania.

WORCESTER, Sept. 22.—The Massachusetts Democratic Convention nominated Henry W. Bishop for Governor by acclamation, and Levi A. Dowly, of Boston, for Lieutenant-Governor, he receiving 330 out of 406 votes cast.

Resolutions were passed pledging the Democratic party to Union principles—approving of the appointment of Caleb Cushing to a Cabinet office—in favor of the ten hour law—opposed to British interference with the fisheries—and indorsing Captain Ingraham's action in the Koszta affair.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27th.—No signs of the America or Herman at 4 P. M. The former due at Halifax and the latter here.

Hard Shell Meeting—Mike Walsh Hurt. Mike Walsh, who was on the platform at the Hard Shell Meeting last night, when it broke down, was seriously injured internally.

GREAT BUSINESS.—Ten thousand bushels of wheat went to Milwaukee on the evening train of Friday last, and four hundred passengers were carried west by the express of that evening.—Waukesha Press.

ON A STRIKE.—On Monday some of the laborers on the Milwaukee and Watertown Railroad struck for higher wages, and likewise concluded to strike those who would not help them strike. Sheriff Ellis promptly took himself to the scene of action, and arrested several of the rioters.—Ib.

CONTRACT SIGNED.—The contract between Galena and John Lockwood, of Milwaukee, by which the latter agrees to light the city with gas, has been signed. Mr. Lockwood is expected here in November or December, when he will commence operations.—Jeffersonian.

Died of a Bee Sting.—We are informed that Miss Mary Vanderveare, daughter of M. Vanderveare, of Argusville, Schoharie Co., was stung on the finger by a honey-bee about two weeks since, which resulted in her death in six days from the occurrence.—Cherry Valley (N. Y.) Banner.

Abandoned.—The Prop. Rossiter, Capt. Hopkins, arrived at this port on Saturday from Keewaunee, with the rigging, anchors, &c., saved from the wreck of the brig Flora, lost on her passage from Cleveland to Chicago, with a cargo of coal.—Chic. Trib.

The New York and Erie Railroad Company have declared a dividend of three and a half per cent., payable on the 1st of October.

The man who was struck down with the "last ray of hope" has since been raised on the "horns of a dilemma."

Foreign Items by the Africa.

In Hungary there has been another execution for political offenses. The victim was a Franciscan monk, Marc Gaspavich. Before he was hanged he had to undergo the tortures of "desecration," that is to say, the skin on the top of his head and of his fingers was rubbed off by a brick-stone, to take away the traces of consecration. Eight persons—young lawyers, surveyors, and courtly gentlemen—have been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment, in heavy irons.—Their alleged crime was that of aiding and abetting the guerilla bands of Noozlogy, who now, for the first time, is called a political offender, and not a robber, as he was formerly styled. Mrs. Csepanyai, a rich lady, accomplished and most beautiful, was sentenced to three years imprisonment for having afforded shelter to one of the offenders.

Cholera in Russia.—Vienna letters state that the cholera was making great inroads in Russia, especially in the Southern Provinces, where large bodies of troops were stationed. It had also made its appearance at various points of the frontier of Eastern Gallicia.

Discoveries of Gold.—A letter from Irkutsk, July 1st, published in The Journal de St. Petersburg, mentions the discovery of several rich gold placers on the right bank of the river Lena, between the localities where its confluents, the Vitime and Olekma, fall into it. Thousands of diggers are there at present, provisions for their use being bro't, at high prices, from Irkutsk. In 1851, some rich diggings were found near the mouth of the river Olekma.

A trial of reaping machines had been made at Stirling, Scotland. The first prize was awarded to Bell's, and the second to McCormick's, against twenty-one competitors.

From Mexico.

A gentleman direct from Mexico puts the New-Orleans Picayune in possession of matters of fact which do not appear in Mexican papers. It would appear that the intelligent portion of the population of Mexico have come to the conclusion that Santa Anna's Government, inaugurated with such splendid and dazzling promises for Mexican greatness and power, is a total failure. The vital energy is wanting. The machine works on, but it is merely the refuse or waste stream that still gives it motion.

Conspiracies abound, and every man of more or less note is thought to be implicated in them. Santa Anna is evidently on the watch for such attempts, and meets them by decrees of banishment to the Interior, or complete exile.

The President, it would seem, has suddenly changed his daily habits. He rises about noon, and breakfasts at 1 P. M. Before rising he reads his newspapers and letters, which are to the number of about one hundred a day, answered punctually. Ministers arrive soon after, at his palace at Tacubaya, and a cabinet council is held which extends late into the evening. He takes no more exercise, and does not even walk in his garden, on account of the number of persons who are waiting and watching to see him, and who would, immediately on his appearance, rush around him in crowds. Thus, excluding his friends and forbidding the press to speak, he is shut out from all information concerning public opinion and public business, except such as his Ministers chose to give him.

The stagnation of trade in Mexico, and a universal complaint of "hard times," are due mostly to the re-establishment of the alcabalas—the tax imposed on all articles bro't from the country to be sold in the cities.—This, of course, injures agricultural and manufacturing industry, and creates discontent among all classes.

Lake Superior Items.

We understand that the general appearance of the mines continues to be favorable.

More attention has been paid to farming this season than usual. The latter part of the haying season was very wet, and some hay was not only injured, but ruined. Potatoes look finely, and turnips are uncommonly good; oats were somewhat pinched by the draught in July, but will turn out a fine crop. After next year little hay, oats or potatoes will be imported to the mines.

The weather has been this far in September, cold and very rainy.—Lake Superior Journal, Sept. 17th.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—As the emigrant train on the M. C. R. R. was about leaving the Station at Decatur, Friday morning last, at about five o'clock, a young man named John Dean, in attempting to get on the car which had just started, slipped and fell in such a position that one of his legs was horribly crushed, and the other slightly injured, by the wheels of the car. His right leg was completely crushed to the knee. He was brought to this place for the purpose of receiving medical assistance, where he died at about 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Dean was a young man—probably about 21 to 22 years of age, and, we are informed, resided somewhere in the State of New York, and met with this fatal accident while on his way to visit some friends and relatives in Wisconsin.—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

MINERAL DISCOVERY.—Mr. Horace Croswell, of Reedsburgh, Sauk county, while searching for copper ore, struck a large bed of mineral, the nature of which is not yet ascertained—a specimen may be seen in Catlin & Williamson's office. Mr. Croswell thinks it contains from fifteen to seventeen per cent. of copper; however that may be, it is the best specimen of mineral paint we have ever seen, and can but be profitable for that purpose if for no other. The sheet of mineral is about two feet thick and extends over one hundred acres, as far as explored. Fifty or sixty tons have already been taken out.

Mr. Croswell offers for sale this mineral discovery, including 135 acres of excellent land, for $2500.—Madison Argus.

Frightful Catalogue.—Mr. De Lameter, President of the Long Island Fire Insurance Company, gives a list embracing one hundred and twenty explosions of Burning Fluid, from July, 1851, to August, 1853! The list is confined mostly to New York, Brooklyn, and Philadelphia. In a majority of the cases two or more persons were either killed or seriously injured.

Yellow Fever in Coffee.—The yellow fever has broken out in the town of Fulton, situated on the Ouachita river, in the interior of Louisiana. The deaths in one day were seventeen. The disease is supposed, by the inhabitants, to have originated there from a consignment of coffee, shipped direct from Rio, by the way of New Orleans.

Disabled.—The str. Queen City due here this morning, broke some part of her machinery, and was compelled to put into Fairport. We did not learn the extent of her damage. The Niagara has gone to take her to Erie for repairs.—Detroit Trib., 24th.

THE KOSZTA AFFAIR.

Testimonial to Captain Ingraham.

There was a great gathering at Metropolitan Hall, New York, on Thursday night last—one which may be of future importance abroad, and of political significance at home. Over five thousand people—adopted citizens and native born, political refugees of different nationalities, and sons of Columbia—gathered there to unite in a testimonial to Capt. Ingraham, of the U. S. ship St. Louis, for his prompt and fearless vindication of the rights of one who, in a foreign land, asked for the protection of the Government of his adopted country, the United States of America.

At 7½ o'clock, the Hall was densely packed. The galleries presented a gay appearance, being chiefly occupied by Hungarians, Frenchmen, Italians, and Creoles, with their ladies. The body of the house was a compact mass of men exclusively, including the members of several societies. On the platform was a raised staging for the accommodation of the officers of the meeting and the band of music in attendance. At the extreme right of the stage the American flag was suspended. Next to it was the national flag of the Italian Republicans. By its side hung the Cuban Lone Star flag. Suspended to the wall, in the rear of the speaker's stand, were two banners, inscribed as follows:

"Civil Liberty and Religious Independence throughout the World."

"Do you claim the Protection of the United States? Then you shall have it!—Ingraham—Smyrna—July 2, 1853."

The flag of the French Republic, the Hungarian flag, and the Red Republican flag were also displayed conspicuously upon the rear of the platform.

Each of these flags, as they were placed upon the wall in view of the audience, were saluted with cheers and applause.

Among the societies present, were the German Turners to the number of 400; the German Reformverein, about 150; the Willichsche Corps of 75 members; the Democrat Bund, numbering 600; and the European Revolution Society, represented by about 25 persons.

At 7¾ o'clock the platform was taken by the committee of management, speakers, and others, and the meeting organized.

Among those seated upon the platform with the officers of the meeting, were John P. Hale, Gen. Meszaros, Col. Asboth, George Castensen, Architect of the Crystal Palace, J. Kroehl, Engineer of the Crystal Palace, Col. M. Doheny, M. Dietz, M. Campdores, Porferio Valienti, and other notable foreigners.

Resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the meeting were adopted, and speeches were made by the chairman, C. C. Burr, and Messrs. Hale, Meszaros, Cochrane, Doheny, and others.

We get the above particulars from the report of the N. Y. Tribune, which gives the proceedings in full, speeches and all. The Tribune has the following editorial remarks on the meeting:

"The meeting last night, at Metropolitan Hall, to ratify the proceedings of Capt. Ingraham, in the Koszta affair, was a splendid demonstration. The floor was filled with men, and the galleries chiefly with well dressed women. Various patriotic societies of naturalized citizens were present. The enthusiasm was complete. But there was one drawback to the proceedings—their partizan character. The Chairman made a partizan speech, and denounced those who opposed the admission of Texas, and now opposed the annexation of Cuba. He applied the term 'rascals' to such persons now seeking admission to the Democratic party. Of course it is not necessary for us to express our indignant dissent to the mixing up of the question, whether the defense of the American citizen in esse or in posse be a duty of the Government, with the forcible annexation of vast new territories, teeming with African bondage. They are clearly distinct, and are opposed to each other, except in the opinions of sham Democracy.

"A most significant fact took place yesterday. Some of the Democratic prime movers in the affair, who were to have figured as principals, backed out at the eleventh hour, because the proposed meeting was voted unpopular in negrodom! So, accordingly, Ex-Senator Hale was called upon a few hours before the meeting opened, to fill up the defection-gap! Mr. Hale's speech alludes humerously to this fact. The people will learn who are the real friends of the oppressed. Mr. Hale was cordially received and vehemently cheered as he spoke."

Holloway's Ointment and Pills, Wonderfully Efficacious in curing Several Wounds in a Person's Leg.—Extract of a letter from Margaret Jones to Messrs. Russell & Watson, of Bacchus-marsh, Melbourn, Port Phillip, dated January 6, 1851.—"Gentlemen,—Since I applied at your stores for a supply of Holloway's Ointment and Pills, I have made a sound cure of my leg, after having suffered from several wounds in it for more than two years. I tried previously many doctors in this country without obtaining any relief whatever from their remedies; but by using Holloway's invaluable medicines for a few weeks every wound is healed and my leg is now perfectly sound. se28-d1w

INCENDIARISM—Attempt at Rape.—Hugh Kennedy was arrested yesterday by officers Connover and Beck, for having burned his house in Greenfield, on Saturday night, and for attempting to commit rape on a girl by the name of Jerusha Redford. Rum incited the man to commit these outrages.

Wisconsin Wheat.—14,000 bus. Wisconsin Wheat were recently sold at Buffalo for $1,06 per bus., and 9,000 bus. at $1,03.

A BEAUTIFUL COMPARISON.—We do not wonder that the leaves and trees and boughs have ever been the material whereof poets have manufactured comparison and imagery. One of the most beautiful we ever remember to have seen was by Dr. Cheever. "That tree, full-leaved, and swelling up into the calm, blue summer air! Not a breath is stirring, and yet how it waves and rocks in the sunshine. Its shadows are hung lavishly around it; birds sit and sing in its branches, and children seek refuge beneath them.—Human affections are the leaves, the foliage, of our being—they catch every breath, and in the burden and heat of the day, they make music and motion in a sultry world. Stripped of that foliage, how unsightly is human nature!"

RELIC OF ROBESPIERRE.—Among a parcel of old government lumber recently ordered to be sold at auction to the highest bidder in Paris was the identical guillotine of the horrible Reign of Terror, and the basket belonging to it into which the head of the victims, from ten to a hundred per day, dropped under the bloody system of Robespierre, including the head of that heartless butcher himself. This horrible machine, frame-work, sliding-knife, and basket, certified by a government officer, were sold at public auction before an immense crowd of spectators, for fifty francs; and directly after, the articles were committed to bonfire, amid the cheers of the people.

NORA;
THE LOST AND REDEEMED.
A TEMPERANCE TALE.

BY FLORILLA.

CHAPTER X.

MRS. LOWLY'S STORY—HER OLDEST BOY—10 YEARS OF SUFFERING—WILLY, EDDY AND MARY—HIGHER AND LOWER LAW.

The next day after the temperance meeting, Mr. Peabody was walking along the street, and as he was passing a small house he heard weeping from within, as though a person was in distress. Always alive to deeds of sympathy, he entered, to ascertain what the cause of the sorrow might be, and alleviate it if possible. He saw a woman who was weeping bitterly, surrounded by three small children. He recognized this woman as one of his congregation the previous evening, but had no acquaintance with her. He asked her in a kindly spirit what the matter was, and why she wept.

"O, Mr. Peabody!" she replied; "I ought not to trouble you with my sorrows. I am a poor woman, but I am tired of life."

"My good Mrs. Lowly,"—as he found that was her name,—"my mission on earth is like that of my Savior—doing good and comforting the distressed, wherever I find them. I would imitate the holy example of my divine Master. I would speak words of kindness to the troubled in spirit. Christ came to save the lost, and I would not only go among the happy, but the wretched. His was truly a heavenly mission. Christ said, 'Come unto me, all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' He did not summon the Pharisees—the wealthy, influential and powerful; but he spoke words of consolation to the weak and erring, the poor and needy; therefore, it is my highest pleasure to visit those who really need my sympathy."

Encouraged by these words of comfort, Mrs. Lowly said: "My tale is long, Mr. Peabody, and I don't like to trouble your kind heart with its recital."

He assured her that he had the time, and would be pleased to hear a record of her life.

Amid sobs and tears, she gave him the following narrative:

"I was a simple farmer's daughter, but received a good common school education. I married Mr. Lowly when only sixteen years of age. He then kept a grocery in an adjoining town, where I removed after my marriage. He often cleared $30 per day, and for a few years he treated me very kindly, and we were just about the happiest family that ever lived. He had rum and liquors of various kinds for sale; gradually took to drinking, at first moderately, till he became a common drunkard. Then his nature changed, and he abused me shamefully. I threatened to leave him. O, Mr. Peabody! I thought it was wrong to live with him, and hear such oaths and receive such brutal treatment. Besides, I thought it was a sin to bring poor little innocent children into the world with such hereditary influences. I knew that the Bible said that 'the sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children, to the fourth generation.' While he was out all night on drunken sprees, I laid awake, read my Bible, and prayed to God to guide me aright. I wrote to my father, told him I loved James, but that I could not consent to live with him any longer unless he reformed, and asked his advice with regard to it. He immediately replied that I might have a home with him, and take my children there, and be again his daughter. After many tears and prayers, a light seemed to break over my soul, and I felt that it was all right, and so I went. James was away from home when I left, and I wrote him a letter, stating that I grieved very much to leave him—that I still loved him, and that if he would reform and sign the temperance pledge, I would live with him again. I knew that he would be exceedingly angry, and I therefore did not care to part with him personally. I set out with a sad heart, went to my father's quiet home, and for one year I lived very happily and peaceably. Still my heart yearned for my husband. He became worse and worse, gave up his store, and lived as best he could—mostly in the groggeries from day to day, doing just enough of a small kind of business to supply himself with liquor. At the end of a year, my father and mother both died, within a few weeks of each other. My share of their farm amounted to $300. With this I opened a little store, and the neighbors, pitying my condition, all assisted me. I was succeeding finely, when, one day, who should appear before me but my husband, all in tatters. He said that he had resolved to be a better man, and he had come to me to see if I would not help him reform and live a better life, adding that, if I didn't, he should take my children away from me, because he could not be separated from us all. This terrified me, and my terror must have been depicted upon my countenance, for this was a favorite string on which he ever afterwards harped when he wanted anything from me. I must confess that I felt not much inclined to live as a wife with such a loathsome, bloated form. Still, I feared that he would take from me my little children, whom I loved as my life; so I told him that if he would sign the pledge and keep it for a month, I would again be his wife, and in the mean time would take care of him. I bought him a new suit of clothes, and gratified his every wish, for I had money and he had none. But he would constantly taunt me with his power to take away my little ones. He was very steady for two weeks, and promised that he would try to obtain work or business of some kind; but he found liquor in a distant part of our town, and relapsed again into his old habits of intoxication. He wanted money continually, and the little sum which I had so carefully and prudently saved against a rainy day, was wasting away very fast, and I became alarmed, but expostulation was of no avail. Money he wanted and would have, while I had a cent. I had only $20 left, when I was surprised one morning by an officer, who came into my shop to take an inventory of my goods. I asked him what he meant by such a course.—He replied that the person with him had purchased all my little stock of goods, and my good will;—preposterous idea!—or, in other words, had taken them in lieu of a debt of my husband's. The man was a stranger to me, but came from the place where we had lived. He was a rumseller, and my husband owed him for liquor. I said to him—'But these are my goods; I earned them by my diligent labor, early and late.'

"I shall never forget the reply and scornful laugh of that man. 'Don't you know,' said he, 'that a woman's word is worthless in the eyes of the law? She can't hold one iota of property without the consent of her husband.'

"'But,' said I, 'have you no compassion for the more than widowed woman, for the worse than orphan children?'

"'Ha! ha! ha!—that is the old story,' replied the rumseller. 'Now don't you think I'm used to such stuff? Woman's tears have no avail with me. The earth don't need them. Better let them stay back in their fountains. So, old woman, the less you say the better. Shut up, or we'll take yer young ones. I should really like to take this little boy for a 'prentice. I b'leve I'll get his father to give him to me for a trial. Youngster, I'd make you a man in no time.'

"I wanted to curse the wretch. I wanted to call upon Satan and all his devils to let loose the demons of hell upon him; but my God, in his mercy, restrained me. I could weep no longer. My tears were dried. I could no longer give vent to my anguished soul, but said, with an earnest appeal:

"'You will not turn me out a penniless beggar, with nothing to eat, and no shelter for my little family, and no place where we may lay our aching heads?'"

"'Call upon your God, old hypocrite! He fed Elijah by the ravens, the children of Israel with manna; but it is of no kind of use for you to think to awaken one spark of sympathy in me. All I want is for you to hold your tongue, and to get my dues. Not another word out of your cursed head, or I'll have that boy of yours before another week has passed away. I'll give you till to-morrow morning, by nine o'clock, to quit these premises, and then, never darken these doors again. If you ain't gone out of my sight by that time, you'll know what'll come.'"

"When the ruffian had taken his departure, I prayed to God to give me a heart to forgive his cruelty, and to show me what course to pursue. I then felt as if a burden was rolled off my soul. I went to a kind friend, who had always aided me by her counsels, and she said that she and some others would set me up in business again, but I told her that I feared my husband would repeat the same outrage. I feared that my oldest boy, then ten years of age, would be seduced into that hellish den, and learn to swear and drink. This kind lady asked me if I would part with my boy for a few years, if he could be provided for in a good family.

"'O, yes,' I said; 'if Johnny could have a good home. I'll let him go, though it be like tearing out my vitals; for I should have preferred to have seen the sods cover his body, than that he should follow in the footsteps of his father.'

"She then told me that a friend of hers was going out West, who would like very much to take him, and would keep him as long as I wished, and educate him as her own child. How my heart reproached me for my wicked and angry feelings, and I said: 'Praise the Lord, O my soul! Bless his holy name, for he has provided for me in my distress.'

"The friends assembled together, raised a purse for me, and directed me to come to this town, thinking that my husband would not find me out. So I opened a little store here, and, by the greatest economy, have managed to support myself, my little Eddy and Mary, and to lay up $100. I have been very careful about being out in the street much during the day, and did not dare to attend church, for I have been in constant fear that my husband would discover my retreat. But, like an Indian on a trail, he scented me here, and early this morning he again came to me in tatters, demanded money of me, and asked where Johnny was, for the rumseller wanted him, and would give him $5 a month for his services.

"I told him that I should not tell where he had gone. Then he beat me, and said he would know. I told him that he might kill me, and I wished he would, for he might as well end my sufferings at once, as to worry my life out by slow torture.

"He then said he would have Eddy and Mary, but they shrunk away from his touch, saying, 'You are not our father—we don't want you for our father.' He declared that he would have money, that he hadn't a cent in the world, and would have what I had. So he went to my drawers, broke open the locks, took away the silver spoons that my mother had given to me, and a gold ring that my mother wore for twenty years, which she gave me on her dying bed.—He also re-enacted the scenes which had previously transpired. Now, I have not a mouthful to eat in the house, and must go to the poor-house, for I haven't the heart to work. I am willing to do anything in the world that's honest. But I can't—I haven't the heart to work for a lazy, drunken husband, and see my dear children liable to starve before my eyes. I am entirely discouraged, and cannot ask my friends to do more for me; they ought not, and if they should they would kill me by their kindness.—So I must be a pauper."

"Couldn't you procure a divorce from him?" asked Mr. Peabody.

"O, no; for, though he has beaten me, yet he has never threatened my life, and he often taunts me by telling me that the law allows a man to correct his wife mildly. And then, Mr. Peabody, after all, there are at times wellings of love for him in my heart, and I can't help thinking but he will some day reform. I pray for him every night of my life, and God says if we ask in faith, he will grant our request. If I could describe to you the ten years of passive endurance that I have suffered from a drunken husband, you would not wonder how I drank in every word you said last evening on the subject of Intemperance."

"Well, Mrs. Lowly, I will see what I can do for you. Mean time, if you can sew, Mrs. Peabody will gladly furnish you with work for several weeks, and you and your little ones may remain with us till we can get you some permanent occupation."

Mr. Peabody could not refrain from thinking what a difference there was in the laws of the people, from those of the great Lawgiver above. It seemed to him that it was too bad that a woman cannot have the right to use her bones, muscles and brains, and have her own earnings.—But it is only another indication that our country is cursed by the evils of Intemperance.—Here is a good husband, kind father and good citizen, rendered so insane by the use of liquor, that the poor wife is persecuted, and yet the law allows its sale. O, that our laws were just and for the best good of the people! that they would abolish the liquor traffic, so that this wretchedness would be banished from our midst! I will pray that God will give me strength to exert all my talents and influence on the side of Temperance.

It might be inferred that a minister with radical sentiments like those of Mr. Peabody, would meet with some opposition; but he was of a mild, pacific nature, and could say very plain truths in such a way that he did not irritate or inflame the evil passions of his flock. He was sustained by Mr. Beal, who was very influential, and especially in his desires for free discussion; for, as we have mentioned, there was a plague-spot threatening to blight his peace, and storms of blackness were gathering around his head.—The future of his children was like a mist before his eyes. He had received a few lines from his daughter that they were about moving west, but no particulars as to the place or object of moving; but she couched it in very affectionate terms, and said she would write again when they were settled, as they hoped to be in a few weeks.

DAGGETT, the Treasurer, at the Milwaukee Mutual Insurance Co.'s office, or on the Secretary, at his office in the 2d Ward. All of the Vice Pres'ts are authorized to receive fees and give certificates of Membership. It is hoped that the friends of Agriculture will come forward at once, become members of the Society, and induce others to do so, for the support and success of the objects it seeks to accomplish. It has been ordered by the Executive Committee that all of the proceeds of the Exhibition are to be given out in premiums, so that the funds will be immediately distributed again to the successful competitors. This appeal is made, believing that all will respond cheerfully for the success of Agriculture and Mechanics.

Persons of the most delicate constitution may use them with perfect safety. A few doses improve the tone of the stomach, and induces healthy digestion, by which means sufferers are restored to a state of vigorous health, which they had never dared to anticipate. Professor Alex. C. Barry's Tricopherous, or Medicated Compound, for beautifying, improving and preserving the hair, curing cuts, bruises, burns, stings, rheumatism, and all irritations of the skin. A preparation, the sale of which amounts to one million of bottles annually, would seem to need no advertisement; but as the thousands who purchase, use, and approve of it, have probably no idea of the enormous extent of the business done by Professor Barry, he gives herewith a plain statement of facts derived from his books, and with them tenders his earnest and hearty thanks to his innumerable patrons.

Professor Barry's accounts of sales for the year 1852, show that during that year about 940,000 bottles of his Tricopherous were disposed of, and that the cash product of this immense sale was nearly $100,000.

This plain, unvarnished tale is a better commentary on the value of the article than anything its inventor could say. If it were not peerless in its effect upon the hair—if it were not invaluable as a household remedy, for cuts, bruises, burns, skin diseases &c.—it would not, of course, be so universally in demand. The wealthy portion of the public would buy it any price, but Professor Barry has reduced it to a figure so low that the poorest can avail themselves of its benefits.

Sold in large bottles (price 25 cents,) at wholesale and retail, at the manufactory and depot, 137 Broadway; and by the principal merchants and druggists throughout the United States and Canada, Mexico, West Indies, Great Britain, France, &c.

WELL, the BARNUM HUMBUG has been exhibited, and we are all satisfied with it, and we will have to be satisfied with whatever is presented before us; for what else is there in this cold, miserable world, but Humbugs? Lawyers are Humbugs, Doctors are Humbugs, Bankers are Humbugs, Merchants are Humbugs, Auctioneers would try to be Humbugs, and in fact every thing is a Humbug, with two exceptions, viz: Handsome Ladies and a group of small Children, are the only realities we have in this world. Now, I have no fault to find, nor do I care what any one says, for there is no friend so near and dear to you as yourself, and all you should wish of that friend is to do right. Now, I again call your attention to this STOCK OF DRY GOODS, amounting to about Ten Thousand Dollars, which I now offer to any one on 6, 12, or 18 months without any interest, at what they cost.—Real Estate security will be taken. HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

A Cripple sets aside his Crutches after 10 years Suffering.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Thompson, Chemist, Liverpool, Dated August 20th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR—I am enabled to furnish you with a most extraordinary cure effected by your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which has astonished every person acquainted with the sufferer. About 10 years ago, Mr. W. Cummins of Sultney Street, in this town, was thrown from his horse, whereby he received very serious injuries; he had the best medical advice at the time, and was afterwards an inmate of different infirmaries, yet he grew worse, and at length a malignant running ulcer settled in his hip, which so completely crippled him, that he could not move without crutches for nearly 10 years; recently he began to use your Ointment and Pills, which have now healed the wound, strengthened his limb, and enabled him to dispense with his crutches, so that he can walk with the greatest ease, and with renewed health and vigor.

(Signed) J. THOMPSON.

A most Extraordinary Cure of a Dreadful Skin Disease, when all Medical aid had failed.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Hird, Draper, of Keady, near Gainsbro', dated March 1st, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR—Some time since one of my children was afflicted with dreadful eruptions over the body and limbs. I obtained the advice of several eminent Surgeons and Physicians, by all of whom the case was considered hopeless.—At length I tried your Ointment and Pills, and without exaggeration, the effect was miraculous, for by persevering in their use, all the eruptions quickly disappeared, and the child was restored to perfect health.

I previously lost a child from a similar complaint, and I firmly believe, had I in her case adopted your medicines, she would have been saved also. I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer.

TO MILWAUKEE BUSINESS MEN AND ADVERTISERS.

THE "OSHKOSH DEMOCRAT," presents to business men a better medium of advertising, than any other country paper in the State. The weekly edition is 1000—41 quires—larger than that of any other in the State, and twice as large as more than half the others. It is sent regularly to every village and post office on Fox and Wolf rivers, and Lake Winnebago, from Green Bay to Fort Winnebago; and from Fond du Lac to Lake Shauno, and Stephens' Point on the Wisconsin, and circulates extensively in Fond du Lac, Dodge, Columbia, Marquette, Portage Waushara, Waupaca, Outagamie, Brown and Calumet counties; and to every precinct in its own (Winnebago) county.

What is said here of its circulation and comparative merits, as an advertising medium, is susceptible of positive demonstration to all who may desire it.

The patronage of Business Men and Advertisers respectfully solicited. GEORGE BURNSIDE & CO.
